

INTERNATIONAL SYMPOSIUM ON ATATÜRK & TURKISH INDEPENDENCE
ON THE CENTENARY OF MAY 19th, 1919
15-18 MAY 2019 - ANKARA

2019 being the centennial of the day in which Gazi Mustafa Kemal Atatürk set foot on Samsun to start the National Struggle an international symposium themed “ATATURK and TURKISH INDEPENDENCE ON THE CENTENARY OF MAY 19th, 1919” will be held in Ankara, Hacettepe University on May 15-18, organized by Atatürk Institute, Hacettepe University and Anıtkabir Association.

Moving with the fact that Mustafa Kemal Pasha, who had been assigned as the 9. Army Inspector, had started a process which later formed a basis for the rise of the new Turkish state setting out from Istanbul on May 16th, 1919 with the steamer SS Bandırma and setting foot on Samsun on May 19th, 1919. In this symposium effects of this process for the Turkish War of Independence and the birth of the Turkish Republic will be discussed regarding the domestic and foreign conditions of the era.

It is planned that topics including the World War I, developments during the armistice period, the occupation of the lands of the Ottoman Empire, responses against the occupation, the solutions for independence discussed by highbrows, peace talks, organization of the National Struggle, congresses held, the National Oath, military, political, social and economic developments of the Turkish National Struggle, establishment and activities of Turkish Grand National Assembly, the idea of full independence independence and reflections from the spirit of the Turkish revolutionaries, that is “the national forces” to the present will be discussed and approached relying on the papers of the recent findings and comments.

Submitted papers that will be sent accordingly with the themes of the symposium should be based on the archival documents or/and new comments.

At selection of submitted papers, it is given priority to the topics that would include the following titles. Apart from these main titles, papers which include new theories, approaches, perspectives and comments addressed to the settlement of issues and original findings will also be evaluated.
